Welcome to ACCT 3300, Professional Development for Accountants at UNC-Charlotte! I am looking forward to getting to know each of you this term and helping you succeed in this course, in the University, and in your career.

Keep in mind that your primary goal in this course is to help prepare you for a professional career in Accounting. This class will possibly be the easiest class you take in the Accounting Program, but yet one of the most beneficial. We will explore the professional world of Accounting to help you decide between career options and choices, as well as helping you transition from student life to the professional world. My expectation is that each class will be a lively discussion and debate about the topics of that day. This class will be instrumental in helping you prepare for the next chapter of your life, so the more you embrace the content, the more prepared you will be to become an Accounting Professional!

Course Description in the University Catalog

Acct 3300 – Professional Development for Accountants - Examines the role of professional standards in the practice of accounting and the current and possible future role of the accounting profession in the domestic and global economy. Students study the role of professional standards and the impact of various decisions on stakeholders in the context of the accounting profession. Students gain practice in systematically analyzing decisions and their ethical implications. This course prepares Accounting majors to explore career interests in future accountancy positions within public accounting, private industry, or governmental organizations. Specifically, the course focuses on helping students understand the variety of career opportunities available to accounting majors. Students are exposed to various career planning and job search strategies and are informed about how best to prepare for and be successful in executing each. Topics include: accounting ethics, communication and negotiation skills, public speaking, and networking, with practical applications.

Course Objectives

The primary objective of this course is to help prepare students for the transition from student life to the professional world. We will explore various career alternatives, discuss ways to successfully navigate the job search process, work on critical interpersonal skills, enhance our ethical standards, and discuss successful personal finance tips. All of these components are critical success factors in finding the right job for you and becoming a successful professional. Upon completion of this class, students will

1. have a better understanding of the different career tracks available for an accounting graduate,
2. understand the job search process and how to successfully pursue the career of their choice,
3. improve their interpersonal skills critical for the successful job applicant,
4. enhance their ethical awareness and standards that will be expected in an accounting profession,
5. Increase awareness of good personal financial habits and decisions that support the successful professional.

Textbook & Course Resources

You are required to purchase:

1. The Textbook = The Essentials of Business Etiquette – How to Greet, Eat, and Tweet Your Way to Success. By Barbara Pachter. ISBN# 978-0-07-181126-2
This book is available at the UNCC Bookstore or on-line. Publisher price is $18, but you can buy it new on Amazon for around $10, or used for around $4.
2. Ethics Certification Program published by the Center for Public Trust. Cost is $40. Access to the course will be provided in class.
3. Attendance will be taken using the Poll Everywhere App – New this year, replacing the Turning Point Clickers, we will use Polling Everywhere. This is a free App that can be downloaded to your smartphone, or other mobile device. You must have some type of WiFi device to register your poll responses. See the following link for inexpensive alternatives and further guidance.

Class Structure

Classes will meet once a week in the assigned classroom (either Mondays or Wednesdays). Periodically, we will have a Lab on Tuesdays. During the Lab, we will expand on the topics introduced the previous week with exercises and/or speakers. Attendance is expected and will be taken during both the normal class and the Lab.

Note – There are some Tuesdays that we will not have Lab. Be sure to refer to the Course Schedule in Canvas for the latest schedule.

You will not be given any exams (that includes no Final Exam). Instead your grade will be determined by your attendance and participation in class. The more you contribute to the class, the more you will benefit from the class!

Attendance Policy

Attendance and class participation is a critical part of success in this course. Attendance will be taken each class and lab. You are allowed to miss three classes/labs without penalty. For each class/lab missed after three, there will be a 5% reduction of your final grade, up to a maximum of 40%.

There are no excused absences. If you are sick, have a death in the family, or a school sanctioned event, the expectation is that you will use one of your allowed absences.

There may be several special events that are held this semester. We will try to schedule these events during the Lab time, but circumstances may require us to schedule these at some other time. Your attendance is expected at these events. If you have a class or work conflict and cannot attend, the expectation is that you will use one of your allowed absences.

Canvas

For classroom materials, tentative schedules, and your current grade, see Canvas at: My.UNCC.EDU

Email Etiquette

Email is my preferred means of communication (other than face to face). In all emails to any professor use real words, proper capitalization, correct grammar and punctuation. Put the course name and section number in the Subject Line. Begin the email with a proper salutation such as "Professor Monaghan" or "Dear Professor". Emails beginning with "Hey" or "Hey Professor" will not be responded to.

Office Consultations

My scheduled office hours are from 8:30am to 9:15am, and 12:30pm to 1:45pm Mondays and Wednesdays. If you need to see me at any other time, talk to me after class and we will make an appointment at a mutually convenient time.

Grading Policy

A student's grade will be determined on the basis of his/her accomplishment in the following areas:

Attendance and participation	40%
Ethics certification from the Center for Public Trust	40%
Resume completed and reviewed by Niblock Resources	10%
Linked in Page set up and linked to your Professor's account	5%
Mock Interview	5%
Total	100%

The following grading scale will be used:

Numerical Grade	Letter Grade
90% - 100%	A
80% - 89.9%	B
70% - 79.9%	C
60% - 69.9%	D
Below 60%	F

The grading scale is based on the assumption that the student's class behavior is professional. The instructor may reduce the final grade in the event that a student has not exhibited professional behavior.

For the University's policy relating to course grades click on the following link:

<http://www.legal.uncc.edu/policies/GradeAppeal.html>

It's your responsibility to keep track of your grades.

Your semester grade for this course will be determined by the your attendance, participation, completion of the Ethics program, having your resume reviewed, setting up a Linked-In page, and participating in the Mock Interview. Factors and circumstances other than these will not be considered. Please note there will be no “extra credit” work available.

Note – Canvas will accumulate your raw grades, but is unable to calculate the final attendance grade. Therefore, to calculate your final grade in the course, use the grade worksheet posted in Canvas.

Examinations:

There are no mid-term or final exams. Your grade will be determined as detailed above.

Classroom Conduct

You are on the path to becoming a professional. Appropriate classroom etiquette and conduct are expected.

- You are expected to come to class on time and to remain the entire time.
- Cell phones should be turned off.
- Electronic devices are allowed in class as long as they are used for purposes of the class. Inappropriate use such as on-line shopping, texting, emailing and other activities on the Internet that are not related to the class are prohibited. You will be dismissed from class if your wireless phone rings or if you use your phone or computer for activities that are not related to the class.
- Disruptive and/or disrespectful behavior (for example, sleeping during class) is not allowed.
- Talking during a lecture is not allowed.
- Disrespectful and/or vulgar language is not allowed.
- Eating, reading, and use of tobacco products in class are considered inappropriate and disrespectful.

Inappropriate behavior will result in a grade reduction, according to my discretion.

General expectations

Students are expected to come to class on time and prepared. Assignments are to be read prior to the class period for which they are assigned. Come to class ready to be engaged and participatory. This class will be instrumental in helping you prepare for the next chapter of your life, so the more you embrace the content, the more prepared you will be to become an Accounting Professional!

Statement on Students with Disabilities

The Americans with Disabilities Act is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. The legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please see me within the first week and also contact the Office of Disability Services (Fretwell 230) and follow the instructions of that office for obtaining accommodations.

The Belk College Statement on Diversity

The Belk College of Business strives to create an inclusive academic climate in which the dignity of all individuals is respected and maintained. Therefore, we celebrate diversity that includes, but is not limited to ability/disability, age, culture, ethnicity, gender, language, race, religion, sexual orientation, and socio-economic status.

Academic Integrity

All UNC Charlotte students are expected to strictly observe the UNC Charlotte Code of Student Academic Integrity. The text of the Code can be found at <http://www.legal.uncc.edu/policies/ps-105.html>

RELIGIOUS ACCOMMODATIONS

UNC Charlotte provides reasonable accommodations, including a minimum of two excused absences each academic year, for religious observances required by a student's religious practice or belief. Such reasonable accommodations must be requested in accordance with the procedures in this Policy, and include the opportunity for the student to make up any tests or other work missed due to an excused absence for a religious observance. Students wishing to request a religious accommodation may refer to the information found at <http://legal.uncc.edu/policies/ps-134.html>. It is the obligation of students to provide faculty with reasonable notice of the dates of religious observances on which they will be absent by submitting a Request for Religious Accommodation Form to their instructor prior to the census date for enrollment for a given semester (typically the 10th day of enrollment).
