Course Description: Principles of Economics-Macro. Scope and Methodology of Economics as a social science, the measurement of national income, inflation and unemployment, money and banking, monetary and fiscal policy, and international economics. (Formerly Econ 1201). This section will be taught as hybrid course (half F2F, half online).

Course Policies
Academic Integrity: Standards of academic integrity will be enforced in this course. Students are expected to report cases of academic dishonesty to the course instructor. All students are required to read and abide by the Code of Student Academic Integrity. Violations of the Code of Student Academic Integrity, including plagiarism, will result in disciplinary action as provided in the Code. Definitions and examples of plagiarism are set forth in the Code. The Code is available from the Dean of Students Office or online. I may ask students to produce identification at examinations and may require students to demonstrate that graded assignments completed outside of class are their own work.

THIS IS AN ONLINE/ HYBRID COURSE!

That means, other than the first day and the final exam when we will meet face to face, coursework and weekly tests will be online. This means you will need to learn the material on your own, with assistance from the textbook and MyEconLab, the online course management system we are using this semester, and email communication with me as you need me. The typical workflow for each set of chapters will be as follows:

Step 1: Complete a MyEconLab homework assignment for each chapter, using the textbook (or e-text), assigned videos, PowerPoints, my communications and other tools designed to help you master the material. These assignments are due the evening before the test on that material.

Step 2: Complete a MyEconLab quiz for each chapter. The quiz is designed to give you practice testing on the material before moving to the next chapter. Quizzes are also due the evening before the test on that material.

Step 3: Take a test after completing two to three assigned chapters. These tests will be taken during your scheduled class time online using Canvas. I will provide detailed information about this in the first class meeting.

Homework on MyEconLab: Homework constitutes 10% of the final grade. Required homework assignments will be completed and submitted through MyEconLab. The homework assignments are intended to help you learn the material on your own. This requires a high degree of self-motivation and discipline. The key to not being overwhelmed and stressed by the homework is to keep current, handle it in small bites. The worst mistake students make is to wait until the last minute, just before the time limit expires, to try and cram the assignment in without actually learning anything. DO NOT miss your deadlines – I will not extend any deadlines for any reason.

You have an unlimited number of attempts to complete the homework successfully. I know the strategy with assignments like these is usually to just click on answers until you get the right one and move on. That won’t help you in this type of course. Remember, the point of the homework is not to simply complete it, but to LEARN from it. I will not be lecturing on the material, so it is in your best interest to watch the assigned media clips, to read the book before and during the homework, and to fully engage in the other helpful tools available in MyEconLab. You should also be proactive about asking for help with concepts that aren’t clear.

Quizzes on MyEconLab: Quizzes constitute 25% of the final grade. Required quizzes will be completed and submitted through MyEconLab. The quizzes are intended to see how prepared you are for a test on the material. You have three attempts to complete each quiz. Quizzes are intended to be completed in one setting. If you begin a quiz and close it before submitting it for a grade, you will be allowed back in but will not have access to questions you have already viewed.

Tests: Test grades constitute 65% of the final grade. There will be four tests given on Mondays plus an optional cumulative final exam on Tuesday, August 6. Tests are online via Canvas. You must begin and end the test during the allotted time. Make sure you have a reliable internet connection. Time will not be extended for internet issues, so plan accordingly. The optional final exam will be face to face on paper in the classroom. I will count the four best test grades out of five. If you are happy with your grade after the fourth test you do not have to take the final exam. However, if you could do better you can take the final exam and use it to replace a lower test score or missed test.

Each test will be comprised of multiple choice and true false questions, and will be taken with Canvas Quizzes. The TA or I will e-mail the class when grades are available.

TEST SCHEDULE

- Test 1 - Monday, July 15 (Ch 1,2,3)
- Test 2 - Monday, July 22 (Ch 8,9,10)
- Test 3 - Monday, July 29 (Ch 13,14)
- Test 4 - Monday, August 5 (Ch 15,16)
- Optional Final Exam – Tuesday, August 6 – 12:00 to 2:30

Make-up work and late work: There are NO makeup tests, except for students away representing the university (documentation must be provided well in advance of the scheduled exam date, and the exam must be taken prior to the scheduled date). If you miss a test, the missed test will count as your lowest test score and can then be made up by taking the cumulative final exam. Missed MyEconLab deadlines cannot be made up for any reason. There are NO exceptions to this policy.

Calculating the grade: Grades will be calculated as follows: (Tests 65%, Homework 10%, Quizzes 25%)

\text{Final Grade} = .65(\text{Test Average}) + .10(\text{HW score}) + .25(\text{Quiz Score})

Test scores will NOT be rounded up. Rounding of final course averages only will follow the standard practice (only .5 or above will be rounded up to the next whole number). Thus 79.5 is a B, but 79.4 is not. NO EXCEPTIONS. Do NOT e-mail me when final grades are calculated to beg for extra points. The answer is always no.

Diversity: The Belk College of Business strives to create an inclusive academic climate in which the dignity of all individuals is respected and maintained. Therefore, we celebrate diversity that includes, but is not limited to ability/disability, age, culture, ethnicity, gender, language, race, religion, sexual orientation, and socio-economic status.
