Course Description:
The goal of this course is to provide a fundamental understanding of marketing research process, design, and tools to aid in both strategic and tactical decision making. This course will examine the use of exploratory, descriptive, and causal research designs and their associated analytical techniques to help guide marketing decisions. By the end of this course, successful students will be able to:

1. Describe a typical five-step market research process
2. Assess the relevant advantages and disadvantages among different research designs
3. Formulate appropriate marketing research objectives
4. Recognize the strengths and weaknesses of market-research techniques and when best to employ them
5. Design exploratory, descriptive and causal research
6. Conduct focus group and survey research
7. Analyze qualitative and quantitative data
8. Summarize managerially relevant, data based recommendations

Within this blended course format, we will use a combination of lectures, readings, discussions, cases, data based exercises, and a large group project. At the end of the term, it is expected that students will have a basic competency in conducting a complete marketing research project, from research design, to survey construction, data collection, analysis and reporting.

Required Course Materials:
• Custom Course Case Pack https: (https://hbsp.harvard.edu/import/380429)
• SPSS software (available on campus computer lab, offline via Citrix, or 30 day free trial)
• Qualtrics software (available online for duration of course)
Assignments & Grading:

Throughout the semester, students will be required to complete several individual and group assignments, as well as a cumulative group research project. The assignments and their associated weights are listed here:

Short Exercises (16%)

* Individual Contribution Adjustment Factor

* Adjusted based on team assessment of individual contribution

Total Points 1000

All grades will be posted on Canvas. Final grades will be calculated based on the total number of points earned for each assignment. Note that at the end of the semester, each individual’s contribution to the team project will be assessed and points for the team project may be adjusted downward if an individual did not contribute his/her fair share. The final letter grades will be determined as follows:

Overview of Course Assignments

Short Exercises (16%, 160 points):
There will be four short exercises to help students apply and/or synthesize the readings for the online weeks. Each will be worth 40 points and is due before the beginning of the next F2F meeting.

Cases (24%, 240 points):
There will be three cases assigned, each one worth 80 points. For each one, students will be expected to turn in a case analysis, based on assigned questions. Bring in a hard copy of your write up to class.

Other Assessments (200 points):

Social Media Survey Design (125 pts): In this assignment, the student will develop a set of research objectives and apply the principles of questionnaire design and question writing to create research survey using the Qualtrics survey software. (Hard copy required.)

Kimberly Clark Data Analysis (125 pts): In this class assignment, students will read a case and conduct data analyses and interpretations of those analyses.

Team Research Project (350 points):
Throughout the course, students will work in small teams to complete a comprehensive research project, consisting of the following components:

Exploratory secondary data analysis (75 pts): Teams will complete a secondary data analysis to provide further context and determine what primary research is necessary.

Exploratory Focus Groups (125 pts): Teams will be required to conduct a qualitative research project to refine initial hypotheses and inform a quantitative research design.

Survey Research (150 pts): Teams will develop and field quantitative research (a survey) to address the research objectives identified and refined from initial exploratory research.

The final report should contain an executive summary, methodology, results, limitations, and recommendations for each of the three research phases of the project. Teams should produce a formal report, as well as a presentation that will be presented in class. While there will be an overall group grade on each assignment, individuals grade at the end of the course may be adjusted based on team members’ assessment of individual contribution. A hard copy of the final report is required.

Other Class Information:
It is important that students read and adhere to the following guidelines:

- All assignments must be uploaded to Canvas prior to the start of class on the due date. Note that this refers to both online and face-to-face meetings. A few assignments require
- Unless prior approval has been received, a late assignment will be deducted a full letter grade for each day it is late, up to 3 days (i.e. Monday by noon). After 3 days, late assignments will not be accepted and a zero will be given. No exceptions will be made, without prior approval.
• All relevant course communications will be posted on Canvas. If you are missing a grade for a particular assignment that you believe you have handed in, contact me immediately.

Academic Integrity:
All students have the responsibility to know and observe the requirements of The UNCC Code of Student Academic Integrity. This code forbids cheating, fabrication or falsification of information, multiple submissions of academic work, plagiarism, abuse of academic materials, and complicity in academic dishonesty. Any special requirements or permission regarding academic integrity in this course will be stated by the instructor, and are binding on the students. Academic evaluations in this course include a judgment that the student's work is free from academic dishonesty of any type, and grades in this course therefore should be and will be adversely affected by academic dishonesty. Students who violate the code can be expelled from UNCC. The normal penalty for a first offense is zero credit on the work involving dishonesty and further substantial reduction of the course grade. In almost all cases the course grade is reduced to F. Copies of the code can be obtained from the Dean of Students Office or online at http://www.uncc.edu/policystate/ps-105.html. Standards of academic integrity will be enforced in this course. Students are expected to report cases of academic dishonesty to the course instructor.
